It's with great sadness that I have to tell you all that our dear friend Peps has passed away.

The end came this morning ,she was peaceful and com fortable

Pep was married to her beloved husband Mr Pep for well over 40 years and they had two children.

As a young woman Pep was very far travelled having lived in Switzerland, Nigeria, Sierra Leone and various other countries.

In later years she lived in Jordan and Spain before her and Mr Pep retired home to the UK.

She was im mensely proud of her daughter and son, and totally smitten with her grandaughter Robyn whom she adored.

Pep and I met in the old femail chatroom and became great friends immediately. We were in daily contact and she was always there for me in good times and bad. I met her on a few occasions and she was even nicer in reality, she gave fantastic hugs and I'll never forget them. To me Pep was a friend, a confidante and a mother figure.

I loved her dearly and we could spend hours on the phone chatting and giggling about everything-I shall miss her greatly.

Mr Peps has asked me to thank you all for your vibes, prayers and wishes for Peps-the family truly appreciated them.

I'd like to take this opportunity to pass on my deepest sympathy to Mr Peps and family-Peps will be sorely missed.

Rest in Peace Pep,my special friend.

Love you always

So sad to hear of the passing of our dear friend Peps.
I also have known her for many years, She was always there with words of encouragement and wisdom.
I met her a few times when she came to visit me at my home and we had some good times then, She has such a wicked laugh.
I SEND MY SYMPATHIES TO mr p AND HER FAMILY.

So sad to hear this news, J always says the best people pass on a Sunday and so I feel that Pep was a very special lady.

Like others Pep was among the first if not the first to welcome me to these boards and then in Chat.

I never met her, but know a lot of her friends here did, and to you all her cyber family as well as Mr Peps and her RL family I offer my sympathies and strength for the days ahead.

RIP dear Pep no more pain, only laughter and hugs.

testament to what a kind, caring person she obviously was. I never had the pleasure of meeting her but she was the first person to welcome me to the DM boards, telling me about her stay here in Jordan, which gave me confidence to post as I felt that I had common ground with at least one person.

referred to Pep as the "mother of Femal" and it's true, she mothered us all, supported us through sadness and upset, laughed and rejoiced with us in happy times. Her hugs were legendary and I was fortunate enough to be on the the receiving end of quite a few.

I have such great memories of time spent with Pep, and the quizzes which she instigated in the old chatroom.

Our deepest sympathy and love go to Mr. Pep, their children and Pep's beloved granddaughter.

Peps was so very supportive when I was scared facing major surgery in January this year.

She really really cared about us all. She always remembered if anyone had an appointment or was scared or having chemo.

I hope she has a smooth journey. Will light a candle for you tonight Peps God Bless you always. We'll never forget you.

A very sad day indeed!

My saddest regret is that I never got to give Peps real hugs in the flesh!

We spent many an evening on MSN, exchanging photos, laughing and chitchatting. A conversation with Pep always put me in a good mood, even though our recent conversations became much shorter as Peps illness took hold.

A sweet lady whose memory I will always cherish.

RIP dearest Pepita

I'm so, so, very sorry to learn this sad news.

Pepita bore her illness with such courage and determination - her fight inspired so many of us to realise that the worries we felt we had were nothing by comparison to what she was facing. It is comforting to know that she has passed over peacefully and is safe at last.

My sincerest condolences to her family and friends at this sad and difficult time.

Love and light,

Such sad news. Peps was the first person to greet me on the boards, as she was for so many others - a great ambassador for Femail.

My condolences to all of her family and friends.

It is a very sad day indeed, although, for one, I am grateful that she is no longer suffering. She hadn't been herself of late, and she is now in a much much better place.

I will always treasure my memories of her, of meeting her at Canterbury, with the lovely Rock, of the lovely gifts she sent me over the years, and of course, I'll never be able to look at an aubergine without thinking of her.

RIP Peps you had a very special place in so many of our hearts 🙏

I was standing on a touchline when I got the text...and I looked up into the beautiful clear blue sky and said goodbye.

Peps, Im sure, is with the other friends weve lost, talking about Firemen and aubergines and Rock the rabbit - giggling and laughing and hugging as she has always done.

Cant quite believe she's gone, so for me she is just AFK (Away from keyboard)
God bless my fellow Leo, I shall miss you

I have been dreading logging on and seeing this message.

Lucky Peps to be at peace now, free from illness, and how sad her beloved family and friends are, and how empty they must feel to have lost such a special person.
Though I never met her, I understand that she touched many people, with her humour and her wisdom.

A lady who truly celebrated life, and an inspiration to many.

Thankyou for keeping us updated Shazsha.

Much love from myself and Arf and no1 son.
Peps was a fantastic support to me in times of trouble - she never judged and was as I imagined her when we met recently.

She was a wonderful host in the chat room - hysterical at times 😄
I would like to send huge kisses from DQ who I am sure Peps left locked in the cupboard 😊

Many, Many heartfelt sympathies being sent to the family - you should all be very, very proud of dearest Peps.

RIP dearest Peps. My deepest condolences to her family.

Peps was a a truly special person, and I feel privileged to have known her. She epitomised everything that a person could strive to be - her caring nature, her reaching out to those who needed comfort or who just needed to know someone was listening, and above all, her love of life - , not forgetting her wicked sense of fun. (She led the way on aubergines, the Men from Blue Watch, what went on in the "cupboard" etc, we had some great parties, and Peps was always at the forefront!).

I met Peps at a couple of Meets and twice outside of formal meets, once when an American cousin of the board was visiting the UK and we went together to meet her in central London.

I hope her family will take some comfort from the fact that she was so loved by a lot of us here and that she meant so much to so many people.

(PS I haven't logged in here for ages, although I do read occasionally, so had to register with a new user name, which should be recognisable to some). I wanted, however, to put my tribute to Peps) DQ xx

Death is nothing at all.....
I have only slipped away into the next room
I am I ,and you are you
Whatever we were to each other,we are that still
Call me by my old familiar name
Speak of me in the easy way which you always used
Put no difference into your tone
Wear no air of solemnity or sorrow
Laugh as we always laughed at the little jokes we enjoyed
Play ,smile ,think of me,pray for me
Let my name be the household word that it was Let it be spoken without effort,without the ghost of a shadow

Life means all it ever meant.....It is the same as it ever was
There is absolutely unbroken continuity
What is death but a negligible accident?
Why should I be out of mind because I am out of sight ?.....
I am waiting for you for an interval,
Somewhere very near,
Just around the corner.....
All is well..

Dearest Peps

You will be so missed that I cant even put it into words! You were the Lady who welcomed so many of us to these boards and made all of us feel special when you would reply to our posts during those first few weeks when we or at least I was very nervous about posting! To have a reply to a post felt really nice.

You never treated anyone differently to anyone else and was always the diploma!! I have only just seen this post but when I did I became very sad...We knew it was going to happen but its still a big shock. I am snivelling over the keyboard at the mo and cant see the screen properly. Just wanted to let you know Peps that I am finally getting the router for the laptop and was really looking forward to coming back into the chatshop for our evening gabs which I havent been able to do for months now and which I have really missed!

Love n hugs to your family and Mr Peps...You would always say hi to him for me when we would chat on msn! Shaz ((((((🥹)))))) for you cos you were such a great friend to Peps and she always told me how close you both were.

I am just going to miss you so much! 🥹🥹🥹

Very sad news.

Peps was the third person I ever spoke with in the old Femail chatroom, years ago now. She was always welcoming to new people, caring towards anyone in need of a bit of TLC, and always up for fun in the hectic chat. We all had some great, hilarious, brilliant times in there, and Peps was right in the middle of it.

On the boards, she was like the official Meeter and Greeter, always taking the time to welcome newbies and helping people feel at home. What a nice thing to do. She summed up the best of what an online community member could be, and I know we all hold only the best thoughts of her.

Peps, we never met in person, but you touched me just as you did so many many others, and we are all the better for having known you. Bless you, and G'night.

Love,

I never had the privilege of "meeting" peps in real life, but such a joy to have known her here on the boards, she was warm, compassionate caring and above all inspiring. She talked about her illness openly, in a way that was of help and encouraging to other posters, especially on the cancer board. She had an amazing gift for remembering things about each and every poster, making them feel special and loved. To her family, you have lost so much, but please be assured that in turn Peps has given a lot of love and support to so many, in fact, she gave totally and unselfishly of herself. God Bless, Peps, Lynne

I am so sorry to hear the sad news about dear Pep. When I first joined these boards many years ago, Pep was the first person to chat to me in the old Femail chatroom: she was so welcoming and friendly, I felt I had an instant friend. She was a genuinely lovely lady and such fun in running the quizzes as well as being there for advice when you needed it. She had an amazing talent for remembering little personal details about each person that came online and making everyone feel welcome.

I soon grew to understand the enormous respect and love that Pep had on these boards and I am glad our paths crossed, if only on the Net. Many condolences to Pep's family. xx

I am so sorry to hear about Peps ,I haven't been on Cafe for a while so it was quite a shock to read the news.

My condolences to all of her family.

rest in peace Peps.xxxx

By the way, that was the first year of the pink themed Brum, for breast cancer awareness week. Nearly all of us (ladies, not the men, well not many of them 😊) wore something pink and we were given pink champagne before dinner...it was fantastic.

That's the pink hat and feather boa that Peps dragged me all over Loughborough searching for 😊

Happy memories 😊

Lovely to see Pep and Velve together 😊 They used to share a room at the Brum meets, no doubt got up to all sorts of mischief, and I hope they're together now in their pink feathers 😊

The other person with Peps in the top photo is Hammy (Hamletmacbeth) he hasn't been on the boards for some time 😞

Kazzy, I don't recognise your name...you were obviously at the 2003 Brum meet, so did you have another name then?

dools 😊

Dools I have seen a photo of you somewhere before, probably on the mas page, I thought that photo of Velve with Pep was you, you look very similar 😊

Please excuse me for pointing out that I thought on another thread somewhere on the boards someone had said that Velvetellen's family did not wish for any photos of Velvetellen to be made public. I would do a link if I could find the thread but it escapes me for the moment. Please forgive me for intruding. Can anyone else find it? I'm sure I read it recently and that you wouldn't want to go against her family's wishes.

I did not mean to upset anyone but the site was the official write up of the weekend the photo I assume was there with Velvs permission. Many of us from the w/e spoke to Naomi for the article "Femalers go pink at meet!" and knowing how cautious ANL are I am sure they would not have printed the photos without the permission of those in them would they 😊

It was Velvet's express wish that no photographs of her would ever be put on the internet.

Her family decided to go along with her wishes and do not want any photographs of her to ever be put on the internet.
